Geagte Ouers

Durf ek dit waag om hierdie onderwerp aan te roer?

Lees is die grootste probleem in Suid-Afrika. Hierdie vaardigheid beïnvloed die normale vordering van leerlinge op elke vlak van die lewe. Die probleem is eintlik om met begrip te lees en durf ek sê dat die manier wat mense lees 'n probleem in ons gemeenskap is? Dit is 'n probleem in gesinne en ek kan dit sien wanneer ek skriftelik kommunikeer.

Nieteenstaande die feit dat ons beleide, reëlins ens. kommunikeer, ervaar ons dat ouers en kinders totaal onbewus daarvan is. Waarom? Hulle lees dit nie of verstaan nie wat hulle lees nie. Dit is ook waar dat ons vluglees, miskien bietjie kwaai van my kant, maar met alle respek, ek rig skriftelike versoeke dat ons by skoolreëls en beleide moet hou, net om te hoor dat mense nie daarvan weet nie.

Die ergste is om te hoor dat dit nooit gekommunikeer is nie!

Dit beklemtoon net my punt – lees is 'n probleem van ons gemeenskap. Dit geld nie vir alle gesinne nie, maar ons moet almal aandag skenk aan wat en hoe ons lees. Ons moet ons kinders aanmoedig om by die huis op alle vlakke en met begrip te lees.

Ons ervaar dat verkeerde antwoorde in 'n toets 'n algemene probleem is omdat kinders nie die vraag verstaan nie. Hulle antwoord is dan verkeerd omdat hulle verkeerd geles het.

Ek moet erken dat ek self soms dieselfde fout begaan, so ek sal nie vingers wys nie, maar mense liever aanmoedig om korrek en met begrip te lees – en dit begin by myself.

Dear Parents

Should I dare to take this one on?

Reading is the biggest problem for South Africa. This skill is influencing the normal progression of learners in every aspect of life. The problem is actually reading with comprehension and should I dare say that reading as such is a problem of our society? Should I dare to bring it closer to home? It's a problem with families and I can see it with our written communication.

Notwithstanding the fact that we communicate policies, arrangements, etc. we find that parents and children just do not know about these. Why? They do not read them or do not understand what they read. Also true is that we scan read, maybe a bit harsh from my side but with all due respect, I request in writing that we adhere to school rules and policies, just to find that people tell me they know nothing about these documents.

The ultimate is the comment that it has never ever been communicated!

This leaves me with my point, reading is a problem of our society, we all need to pay attention to what we read and how we read it. We need to encourage reading at home on all levels and to enforce proper reading with understanding.

In a test teachers find that a common problem with incorrect answers tends to be that the children do not understand the question. They answer incorrectly because they read incorrectly.

I must admit that I am sometimes guilty of making the same mistake, so let's rather not point fingers but strive to encourage proper reading and reading with understanding by beginning with ourselves.
